OBJECTIVE

With this project, the partners wish to disseminate a method for the implementation of VAE (validation of acquired experience) courses aimed at obtaining a certification, a statement or a diploma through a procedure of recognition and validation of competences learned in the partner countries.

VAE is a “new chance”, an individual and voluntary approach and means

- each user regains new self- confidence by identifying and enhancing the skills acquired through the training courses;
- the worker is recognised socially and professionally;
- free access to the internal and external labour market.
